MANY KILLED IN KANSAS CYCLONE

Swept Over Great Bent and Other Towns--Fire Followed Wind--Eleven Known Lives Lost

Hutchinson, Kansas, Nov. 11.—At least twelve persons were killed and one hundred were injured in the cyclone which swept an area over sixteen miles wide in the neighborhood of Great Bent, Kansas, last night. It is feared that when communication is restored with other towns a great loss of life will be reported. One message received was that fifty-seven were killed. Telegraph and telephone wires were down and no estimate could be secured. The property damage is estimated at half a million. In Great Bent, which is 40 miles from here, the Santa Fe railroad station was demolished and three flour mills were twisted from their foundations and wrecked. A large grain elevator was damaged and a score of houses in a path three-fourths of a mile long were wrecked and many persons were caught in the wreckage. Fire started in several parts of the city and burned for hours, the water plant being out of commission and the fire department was helpless. The fire raged until rain put it out.

MUNITION PLANT DEAL CONFIRMED

The Phillips Corporation Organized With $25,- 000,000 Capital--War Orders For $60,000,000
Secured--Local Plant to Be a Big Unit in Giant Corporation

The Boston News Bureau will tomorrow make the following announcement concerning the proposed munition plant at Freeman's Point, which will be of great interest to residents and set their minds at ease concerning the new company:

PHILLIPS CORPORATION

The munition merger which has been under negotiation during recent weeks by interests headed by Ralph B. Phillips of Boston has been confirmed.

The company will be incorporated under the laws of Delaware as "The Phillips Corporation," with an initial $25,000,000 of issued capitalization of which $12,500,000 will be 7 per cent cumulative preferred and the $12,500,000 common.

The new company is to be a holding company. The operating companies will continue to be run separately with but few, if any changes in their individual officials. It has now been determined that the American Steam Gauge and Valve Manufacturing Company of Boston; H. B. Phillips Manufacturing Company; Worcester and Lowell; Windsor Machine Company, Windsor, Vt.; National Acme Manufacturing Company, Cleveland, Ohio, and Montreal, Canada; White Mountain Paper Company, Portsmouth, N. H., which will be re-named the New England Shell and Ordnance Company, to be the companies making up the new enterprise.

It is planned ultimately to develop the Portsmouth plant into a large Ordnance and shipbuilding enterprise.

In an important sense the Phillips Corporation will be a New England enterprise, as all of its plants which will require some 7,500 employees are located in New England, with the one exception of the Acme, employing about 1,800.

Unfilled orders are booked without cancellation clauses and all are believed to provide for a substantial margin of profit, and are officially stated to amount to $60,000,000 gross, with deliveries extending to January 31st, 1917.

They include French shell casing, Russian shells, English shell fuses and orders for machinery and shell copper bands, totaling several million dollars.

The management expects to book further large orders in the near future.

All its orders are to be filled at the constituents' plant. Ralph B. Phillips is to be president of the new company. Lloyd H. Atkinson, formerly of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, is to be vice-president in New York.

HORRORS OF ANCONA REVEALED

Passengers Say Submarine Commander
Did Not Give Time to Leave Ship

(Special to The Herald)

Malta, Nov. 10, via London, Nov. 11.—A blind panic reigned on the Ancona during her final hours. Most of her passengers were women and children, who became insane when the Austrian submarine began shelling the ship. The submarine was sighted at 1 o'clock rushing toward the liner at top speed. When the vessel was overhauled only a few minutes were given by the Austrian commander to disembark, according to a story told by one of the survivors landed here today. The life-boats were also struck by the shells from the submarine.

He said: "While still a considerable distance away the submarine fired a few shells across our bow as a signal to heave to, as we didn't slow down quick enough the submarine renewed the bombardment and this time shells were directed at the ship. Every time a shell struck there was a shattering of glass and splintering of wood. The excitable Italian and Greek women, believing that they were doomed, lost their heads completely. The men did not behave much better. Within a short time the submarine drew up alongside and it was seen that she flew the Austrian flag. The commander shouted, 'Make haste, I am going to sink you.' He then gave another order and the submarine veered off and the big gun on the submarine began to bark and the shells hit the Ancona, which began to sink. The crew and officers worked with feverish haste to lower the boats, but the panic-stricken crowd rushed the boats, in many cases jumping them, and the struggling victims in the water made a scene indescribable. The crew of the boats had to use their oars to beat off those who tried to get back into the already crowded boats. While the boats were still being lowered the

TO PROTECT MILITARY SECRETS

Congress Will Enact Legislation to Protect Government.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Congress will be asked this winter to enact legislation broadening the scope of the national defense act of 1911 so as to safeguard the military secrets of the government more accurately with respect to torpedoes, guns, and other devices designed by the navy department and turned over by it to private contractors for use in connection with the execution of contracts for naval munitions and warships.

The annual report of Graham Bergeron, the solicitor of the navy department, given out tonight for publication calls attention to the purpose of the navy department respecting proposed legislation and to the litigation with the E. W. Bliss Company in connection with the manufacture of torpedoes. Touching these points, the solicitor's report says:

"This office purposes submitting to the department at the proper time, with recommendation that appropriate legislation be requested by congress, certain amendments to the national defense act of March 3, 1911, whereby a contractor with the government would be prohibited under severe penalties from selling, demonstrating or explaining to any person or government other than the United States, any thing or any part thereof covered by the contract or anything pertaining to or connected with the matter covered by the contract, and whereby the act will be broadened in scope in certain other material respects so as to provide protection against the obtaining of information concerning the national defense in ways that are not now forbidden by the terms of the act."

Company for the manufacture of torpedoes for the navy include provisions that are intended for keeping secret the construction of torpedoes containing devices, the designs of which are furnished by the government, with the injunction of secrecy. To prevent contemplated action by the company, that in the opinion of the department would have been a violation of these provisions, suit was brought by the government in the U. S. District court at Brooklyn in 1913 to enjoin the company for constructing for or exhibiting to anyone, other than the U. S., any torpedo containing certain devices asserted to be within the protection of the contracts.

"The district court granted an injunction so far only however, as concerned the use of the 'balance-turbine' method of propelling the torpedoes; but upon appeal to the circuit court of appeals, the injunction in June, 1915, was broadened to include all designs used in the manufacture of torpedoes for the government that were communicated to the company pursuant to the secrecy clause of the contracts."

"It was contended by the government that the disclosure of any of the naval constructions would have been a violation also of the national defense act of March 3, 1911; the court, however, founded its decision on the provisions of the contract only."

CARPENTIER, FRENCH HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION, KEEPING IN TRIM BY ENGAGING IN BOUTS ON THE BATTLEFIELDS IN FRANCE

CARPENTIER (right) IN BOUT AT FRENCH FRONT

New York, Nov. 11.—Judging by the photographs and stories that have come from France during the past few weeks, Georges Carpentier, the heavyweight boxer of France who has been reported wounded and killed several times during the past few months, is still in the ring and willing to exhibit his skill with the mills. In fact, those who figured the sensational Frenchman was out of the ring for good, should witness Georges in his bouts on the battlefields of France during the past few months. Of course this is impossible unless you are a member of one of the regiments or a third line line. Judging by the reports, Carpentier retains his old time skill and has added a number of knockouts to his credit. When the war is over Georges intends to re-enter the ring and give the so-called champions battle. The Frenchman has put on a lot of weight since he donned the soldier uniform. Illustration shows Carpentier boxing with a soldier of one of the regiments in France.

WIRE MILL DESTROYED

Was Making War Supplies for the Allies—Second Fire at Trenton Plant.

(Special to The Herald) Trenton, N. J., Nov. 11.—Fire, believed to have been of an incendiary origin destroyed a four story wire rope mill at the Linens plant of George A. Roblin-Son Company, where war orders were being filled today. In addition to the factory, about twenty houses were destroyed and the entire section was threatened. The estimated loss was $800,000. The plant has been working night and day turning out wire and chains for the Allies. Another mill was destroyed last spring at a loss of over a million dollars and it was then charged that agents of a foreign government were responsible. Following that fire the guard was doubled. The guard says that they saw nothing to arouse their suspicions last night. No lives were lost.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Portsmouth People Know How to Save It.

Many Portsmouth people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Portsmouth citizen's recommendation. Albert W. Dunlap, 17 School St., Portsmouth, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble for years and my back often became so sore and painful that I could scarcely get about. I had other symptoms which left no doubt in my mind that my kidneys were disordered. I finally resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills at Philbrick's Pharmacy and through their use, every symptom of the trouble disappeared. I willingly confirm the endorsement I have previously given Doan's Kidney Pills."

HORRORS OF ANCONA REVEALED

submarine continued to shell the liner and many of the shots fell among the struggling people in the water.

London, Nov. 11.—Reuter's correspondent at Paris cabled today that Capt. Massaro of the Ancona has arrived there and declared emphatically that the submarine gave no signal to stop but opened fire without warning.

An earlier report from Naples that Capt. Massaro had perished. The first sign of the presence of the submarine was held from a distance of five miles. The captain of the Ancona was quoted as saying "The Ancona stopped dead, subsequently shells hit the boats which were being made ready for launching and many passengers were killed and wounded on the deck. Some of the passengers who had been thrown into the water, approached the submarine but were repelled. Finally shells and torpedoes were fired at the ship."

All the members of the Portsmouth Theatre audience last evening were satisfied that "The Fortune Hunter" was a great picture.

LEYLAND LINE STEAMSHIP IS SUNK BY GERMANS

S. S. CALIFORNIAN WAS FORMERLY ON THE BOSTON-LIVERPOOL RUN.

Boston, Nov. 10.—The Leyland liner Californian, which was formerly in the Boston service, has been sunk by a submarine, according to a cable dispatch from London this afternoon.

The Californian is one of three more British steamships sunk by submarines. The torpedoing of the three liners was announced by the London Admiralty today.

The other ships which were sunk were the Morrinn and the Clan McAllister.

It is believed in London that the Morrinn and Californian were torpedoed in the Mediterranean, according to the dispatches. Both were in the government service.

The sinking of the three British steamships and the torpedoing of the Italian liner Ancona indicates that the Germans have renewed their submarine campaign against the allies' shipping.

The full in Germany's submarine activity lasted for several months. Until today Admiralty announcements of torpedoed liners were infrequent, and explanations sent forth from London were to the effect that British ships had captured so many submarines that Germany had quit its submarine warfare.

The Californian had a gross tonnage of 6,233 and a net of 1,038. The Morrinn displaced 3,150 tons. The McAllister, which hailed from Glasgow, displaced 4,325 tons.

The Californian came into the line of sight at the time of the Titanic disaster. When the Titanic struck the iceberg in the North Atlantic the Californian, commanded by Captain Lord, was twenty miles away. Officers of the Leyland liner, it developed later, saw the Titanic's signals, but failed to go to the aid of the sinking White Star ship.

What of the Weather

There are easier jobs these days than being a weather forecaster.

There are easier things to do than keeping a house the proper temperature.

You don't want much heat in some rooms when the winter weather is like spring, but you do want a lot the next day when the mercury falls.

The most flexible, easily regulated heating appliance is a gas heating stove. It gives lots of heat when and where you want it.

Come in and see them.

ALWAYS AT YOUR SERVICE

Titanic came out when the Californian docked in Boston.

The Californian was built at Dundee in 1902, and carried passengers when in the Boston service.

The Californian is one of four steamships to have been sunk by the Germans in the past 24 hours. One French steamship, "France," 4125 tons, the British steamship, "Clan McAllister," 4333 tons, and Morrinn, 3159 tons.

A British transport, the Morrinn, carrying a large number of troops, and registered at 6,305 tons, was attacked by a submarine, but escaped without damage.

N. H. COLLEGE NOTES

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., Nov. 10.—New Hampshire is preparing with the greatest of enthusiasm for the approaching invasion of Massachusetts. "On to Worcester" is the cry, and when the team starts out next Friday it will know it is to be followed by 300 or more rooters in a special train who will back it, win, lose, or tie.

The train has been engaged; the spirit is at the boiling point, and the team is ready to go. The town of Durham will be vacant Saturday.

Friday night is "New Hampshire Night." Alumni will return and there will be a mass meeting at the gym. "Chuck" Sanborn, Nixon and Thompson, all famed New Hampshire athletes of former years will be on hand, and W. F. Purington, President of the alumni association may be able to attend. All alumni are invited to attend.

Among the speakers will be Prof. Richard Whoriskey, who has probably done more for athletics at New Hampshire than any other man, Captain Westover of the football team, the coach, W. H. Cowell, Professor R. H. Porter and Lieutenant S. J. Sutherland U. S. A.

"Let us do away with creed and any thing else that keeps us away from true life, which is the essence of preparedness," said the Rev. Ralph Connor pastor of the Unitarian church at Gardner, Massachusetts in an address on "Preparedness" to the student body at New Hampshire College yesterday afternoon. Mr. Connor took his text from Ruskin "Lay up in youth a store of perpetual enthusiasm," and dwelt on the necessity of preparing physically, mentally and morally for life.

The committee on education of the New Hampshire State Grange was present at the convocation exercises, at which time the address was given and occupied the platform with the speaker.

"THE GERMAN SIDE OF THE WAR"

Edwin F. Weigle, the staff photographer of the Chicago Tribune, has astonished the world with his wonderful pictures of the present war. From a moving picture standpoint and for general interest, they outline anything that the public has already seen in that line. These pictures will be seen in this city at the Portsmouth Theatre Friday and Saturday, Nov. 12 and 13 when four performances will be given daily at 2:30, 4:00, 7:00 and 8:30 p. m.

These pictures had their New York exhibition at the 44th street theatre, where they have drawn thousands of people during the past few weeks, so great have been the crowds that on several occasions the police have been commissioned to keep order on the waiting lines which sometimes extended for over a quarter of a mile in length.

During the presentation of these pictures, which is of six reels' duration, the onlooker visits the battlefields of many celebrated encounters. Edwin F. Weigle spent eight days with the Germans and Austrians in the French battle lines. Then from his excellency, Field Marshal Von Schleyer, he secured permission to go to the Galician battle lines. Enroute he stopped at Vienna, where he saw train loads of wounded coming in from the battlefields. He was at Tarnow when the Germans broke through the Russian lines, and during the battle stood in the trenches, which the Russian troops had occupied for three to five months. He accompanied the Austrian army on their wonderful advance of 125 miles from Tarnow to Pzemysl, which was covered in 12 days, and he accompanied the victorious army when they marched into the famous fortress of Pzemysl. All these incidents are vividly depicted on the screen during the presentation of these pictures. They show what took place, what is now taking place and what will continue to take place until this war is over.

The German war pictures at the Portsmouth Theatre on Friday and Saturday should attract considerable interest. They are wonderful pictures taken at the front.

HOBOS WORK OR GET OUT

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA TO PUT "HOBOS" TO WORK ON ROADS FOR THE GOOD OF THE STATE.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 10.—It will be a long road for Weary Willies in Southern California this winter unless they are willing to work.

Seven counties in the lower end of the state acted together today in preparing for the annual invasion of Sons of Rest, who are not behind the millionaires in seeking the most genial climate during the winter months.

The commissioners of the seven counties have determined that as many new roads are being built there will be plenty of useful work for able-bodied vagrants. Road piles and similar monuments to industry have been established at convenient intervals and all able-bodied men arrested for vagrancy will be compelled to serve their sentences in perfecting the various county good roads systems.

INCREASE IN DYESTUFF MANUFACTURE

Boston, Nov. 10.—Dr. Norton, a government Dyestuff expert, says that the present output of American dyes has more than trebled, compared with the output of 1913. The output is now 9000 tons annually, and Dr. Norton says that in 1917 this country should be producing 16,000 tons.

Dr. Norton predicts that in 1920 the greater bulk of the artificial dyes used in this country will be manufactured from American raw materials. The production of synthetic indigo has been taken up by one of the chemical companies and three other concerns are studying the possibilities of manufacturing this important dyestuff product.

NAVY YARD NEWS

Nevada's Success: Having finished her trials, the oil-burning battleship Nevada returned to Boston Harbor Wednesday. The ship is said to be satisfactory in every way to the members of the naval trial board. The backing and turning tests were conducted of the Graves Light this morning.

The Nevada will weigh anchor today and steam to Quincy for her finishing touches. She will be ready for service in January.

The Nevada is the first single-stack super-dreadnought burning oil, and during the trials surpassed the contract requirements by a wide margin, with not the most favorable weather conditions. The economy of her fuel consumption at top speed 20 1-2 knots, 12 knots and 16 knots an hour, was very marked.

The Rhode Island Takes on Men: The battleship Rhode Island arrived at Newport Wednesday and after taking on a draft of 47 ordinary seamen and 17 coal passers from the training station, steamed last evening for the Southern drill grounds to distribute their duties for the fleet.

Special Train Arrives on Wednesday for Another Inspection—Railroad Work Order Countermanded.

A special train with a party of financiers interested in the proposed B. B. Phillips millium plant at the Colonial Paper Company, arrived here on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 and were at once shifted to the plant where they passed an hour or more going over the property.

The party was in charge of officials of the Phillips Company who were not inclined to talk much about the object of their visit, other than that they were making an inspection with a view to the possible further development of the plant. The party returned to Boston in the evening.

There has been some hitch in the developments, for the orders issued on Wednesday morning to lay the side tracks into the plant were countermanded last evening and the men called off.

At the present time there are several men connected with the Phillips Company at work at the plant making plans for the improvement and people having business with the concern are arriving daily.
